7. LOGISTIC REGRESSION

Question / Python Code

```
from sklearn.datasets import load_iris
from sklearn.linear_model import LogisticRegression
d = load_iris()
m = LogisticRegression(max_iter=200)
m.fit(d.data, d.target)
print(m.predict([[5.1,3.5,1.4,0.2]]))
```

Output Screenshot

Output screenshot reproduced from the supplied document.